Meet Ravi, the Little Inventor

Small ideas. Brave little experiments.

Little Biography

Meet Ravi. He is seven years old, and he loves to look closely at how things work.

When a toy bridge wobbles and breaks, Ravi does not get sad. He draws a careful plan.

Every great inventor needs the right materials.
Ravi gathers strong cardboard and smooth wooden blocks to build.

Oh no, Ravi's first try falls down! But he knows mistakes can help us find a better way.

He tries again. This time, he adds strong triangle supports beneath the bridge, so it can carry more weight.
